DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
HENRY D. ALLEN, OF UNION COUNTY.

A United States custom office is to be established at Santiago at once and duties collected on all goods imported into Cuba.

Congressman Evan E. Settle, of the Seventh Kentucky district, has been declared the nominee of the Democratic party for re-election, without the formality of a convention.

A rumor that the most notorious woman in Europe, the Princess Chimay, was dead, has been promptly contradicted. No such good fortune has befallen her disgraced relatives.

Jas. J. Corbett and Norman Selby, known as Kid McCoy, have agreed to fight a 25-round contest for $20,000 about September 10. The fight will be pulled off by the Buffalo Athletic Club.

Rev. Jas. P. Hendrick, father of the ex-Attorney General, Jack Hendrick, died at Flemingsburg. He was seventy years old and had been pastor of one Presbyterian church for forty years.

Major Taylor, a colored wheelman from Indianapolis, carried off the highest honors at the Philadelphia National Circuit Meet Saturday. He won the national championship easily over Eddie Bald and Tom Cooper.

Eben Brewer, who had charge of all postal arrangements of the United States in Cuba, died near Santiago Saturday, according to advices received at the Post Office Department. He went from Pittsburgh. It had been reported that he was sick with malarial fever.

The Austrian warship Maria Theresa arrived at Havana Friday and was permitted to enter the harbor with some Russian officers who want to join the Spanish army. They want to study the war and will also have an opportunity to study the inside of American prisons in a short while.

The doom of the rivet in iron work is at hand. Welding on a gigantic scale is superseding it. Elihu Thompson of Lynn, Mass., the pioneer of electric welding, has found a new and startling use for the electric arc. With it, he believes, he can weld the hulls of battleships in one piece, obviating all possibility of leaks and making them practically impregnable.

Mrs. Martha Place has been sentenced to die in the electric chair in New York for strangling her stepdaughter. She is the second woman upon whom the death sentence has been passed since the electric chair was introduced in New York. Maria Barberi was the first, but she was subsequently pardoned. Now New York is having a controversy as to whether or not a woman should be sent to death in the electric chair.

Advices from Honolulu indicate that the coast-defense vessel Monterey will take possession of the Caroline Islands before reaching Manila. While in Honolulu harbor Commander Lentz, of the Monterey, borrowed charts of the Carolines from Capt. Bray, of the Missionary bark Morning Star, and also consulted with that navigator regarding the harbors of those islands. Capt. Lentz promised to return the charts when he reached the Philippines.

The War Department is concealing the real facts about the yellow fever in the army. The news is censored and the public is not permitted to know the real extent of the epidemic. From unofficial sources it is stated that the disease has begun to spread and that the number of those stricken has been increased at an alarming rate. The number of deaths so far recorded has been quite small in proportion to the number ill.

Telegrams from Wichita, Topeka and other Kansas cities say that "Kansas girls who have attended school in the East ever since they were tots, many of whom are now at home on their vacations, are out in the harvest fields, riding reapers and binding wheat." Many men are off in the army and the wheat crop was heavier than usual and the labor problem became a serious one during harvest. The Post Dispatch says:

"Miss Ella Mayfield is one of the girls who has distinguished herself in the present crisis. Her father owns a big farm near Wichita and is wealthy. She was given every advantage in life and spent much of her time in the city. She attended school there, went in society there and became thoroughly urban in her habits. Her pleasing face and vivacious manner made her a general favorite. At the beginning of the harvest season this year she was visiting in Wichita. When the call came for volunteers in the wheat field she was one of the first to respond. She hurried home, doffed her urban finery and prepared for a season of hard work. In a cool shirt-waist, a linen skirt and a broad sailor hat—a 'hickory hat,' they would call it in the country—she mounted her father's reaper to which were attached four horses, and drove fearlessly into the ripest field. She has been at work ever since and will continue until the harvest is complete and the claims of Kansas womanhood have been vindicated. 'There is nothing remarkable about the matter,' said Miss Mayfield, with charming naivete. 'I am only one of many. All over Kansas the wives and daughters of farmers are helping harvest wheat. It became imperative that somebody should do the work, and as men were not available what could be more natural than that the task should fall to the lot of the women?'"

It is possible that John F. Martin, blind drug clerk, who has for two years undergone heroic treatment at the hands of specialists, may have his sight entirely restored. Martin has been totally blind for years, suffering from chronic webite atrophy. This disease is said to be incurable. He became prominent two years ago as a substitute in experiments for Chas. Broadway Rouss, a millionaire merchant, who is also blind, and who offered $1,000,000 to any person who could restore his sight. Mr. Rouss is suffering from the same disease that Martin is. Martin is now being treated by G.H. Cassidy, whose system is one of inhalation. The drugs are placed in a tube and inhaled at five minute intervals several times a day. The eyes are sprayed with belladonna.

Lieut. Sidney Johnson, of Company G, First Kentucky infantry, had a narrow escape from drowning in Chickamauga creek while bathing Saturday. He was seized with cramps, and was saved by Private Richard Clore after a hard struggle. Clore was in turn rescued by Private Owen Abot and Sergt. Mat Carrol.

A variety show is in full operation at Lytle, the postoffice station for Chickamauga camp, and the actresses are reaping a rich harvest. Quarters and dimes by the handful are thrown upon the stage when a taking patriotic turn is done by them.

He Remembered.

He rose to depart as the clock sounded eight, And, getting his hat and his cane, His wife sweetly murmured: "Now, don't stay out late, Dear Charlie, Remember the Maine!" With that somewhat startling injunction in view. He was back home at ten with his pet, For should he stay later he very well knew What a great blowing up he would get. —Denver Post.

Another Maine Victim.

Baltimore, July 18.—Lieut. John J. Blandin died here Saturday. His death was the result of the great shock his nervous system received by the destruction of the Maine at Havana. Lieut. Blandin was the officer on deck at the time of the treacherous horror.

Tom Morrissey, formerly a bartender at Stanford, was killed in the battle of Santiago.

EXPRESS COMPANIES Must Pay the Tax—Iowa United States Commissioner Make the Decision.

Ottumwa, Ia., July 18.—United States commissioner Hunter Saturday decided for the first time in any court, criminal or civil, the question whether express companies or shippers must pay the one cent tax to be attached to an express receipt. He held that the company must pay the tax under the law. He holds the cashier of the local office of the Adams Express Company, arrested on a charge of violating the revenue law, to the Federal grand jury. United States District Attorney Miles represented the United States in the hearing. Attorney for the express company will apply for a writ of habeas corpus before United States Judge Woolson, who will be asked to pass judgment on the Commissioner's decision early next week.

COST OF THE VICTORY.

Nearly 2,000 Men Were Killed,
Wounded or Died of Disease.

Gen. Shafter's Headquarters, Friday, via Kingston, Jamaica.—The final report of casualties in the army since it landed in Cuba three weeks ago has been forwarded to Washington. It shows an aggregate of 1,914 officers and men killed, wounded and missing. The killed number 246, of whom twenty-one were officers; wounded 1,584, of whom ninety-eight were officers; and missing eighty-four, of whom none was an officer. Of the wounded only sixty-eight have died.

Uniontown's New Mayor.

The new Mayor of Uniontown, selected to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of W. G. Short, was chosen by the city council at the regular meeting Friday evening, says the Telegram. The mantle of honor again falls on worthy shoulders, as Mr. R. W. Crabb, one of Uniontown's most enterprising and progressive citizens, was chosen to govern the municipal affairs of Uniontown. The choice of the council met with the full approval and unanimous consent of all, and the city, under Mayor Crabb's guidance will continue to grow and prosper in the future with that same gratifying progress which has characterized in the past.

NEWS FROM PON.

Pon, Ky., July 18.—We are having plenty of rain so far this summer. The corn crop never looked so flattering for a good crop.

Miss Albina King, whom I spoke of last week as having fever, is some better at this writing.

Mr. L. B. King, our merchant at Pon, is still sick.

Mr. James Calvin will commence teaching the public school at Dogwood chapel the 7th day of August.

Mrs. Virginia J. Barnes is still on the sick list. She has improved some the past week.

Mrs. Marshall Long is very sick at this writing.

Mrs. Nettie King and daughter, Miss Eva, were the pleasant guests of Mr. Maryland Hord last Friday, and Miss Maud Cavanah was also there. HONEY BEE.

Anxious to Get In.

R. W. Wolfers, of this city, who was rejected by Capt. Atkinson at Hopkinsville several days ago, where he went to enlist as a volunteer in the Third Kentucky, on account of a crooked arm and a slight deficiency in weight, has not yet given up all hope of joining the regiment and going to the front, according to the Uniontown Telegram. Wednesday he wrote to Congressman Clardy, requesting him to negotiate for the allowing of a dispensation.

Barred Out.

"You say you don't intend to marry Miss Whopper?"
"No; two men have come between us."
"Two?"
"Yes; a preacher and the man she married."

Smoothing the Way.

"My lawyer told me he thought I would have a hard time establishing my claims under the will."
"What did you say?"
"I asked him how much more money he wanted."

The Daily Kentuckian $4.00 PER YEAR.

RELIABILITY

is a quality some newspapers have lost sight of in these days of "yellow" journalism. They care little for truth and a great deal for temporary sensation.

It is not so with THE CHICAGO RECORD.

The success of THE RECORD rests upon its reliability.

It prints the news—all the news—and tells the truth about it.

It is the only American newspaper outside New York city that has its own exclusive dispatch boat service and its own staff correspondents and artists at the front in both hemispheres.

It is the best illustrated daily newspaper in the world.

Its war news service is unapproachably the best.

Says the Urbana (Ill.) Daily Courier:

"We read the war news in the other papers, then we turn to THE CHICAGO RECORD to see how much of it is true."

Sold by newsdealers everywhere and subscriptions received by all postmasters. Address THE CHICAGO RECORD, 184 Madison street, Chicago.

ESTABLISHED IN 1852.
